I took this little arctic fox baby with me on a trip out on one of the last snowy days this year in Denmark. I could not have been more lucky because it was perfect to take photos of him in the forest. Many people had chosen that same day for a trip and they were very curious to see this little animal.

I am often contacted by visitors who would like to buy dolls they have seen in the picture galleries. But all of these dolls have been made as part of projects or have been pre-ordered a long time before they were made. Due to lack of time I only make a very limited number of dolls each year, but I have decided to make some of these dolls available on Feltmaking.com as "Doll of the month".

The doll has been sold

I took this little arctic fox baby with me on a trip out on one of the last snowy days this year in Denmark. I could not have been more lucky because it was perfect to take photos of him in the forest. Many people had chosen that same day for a trip and they were very curious to see this little animal.

He nearly looks alive when you see him there in the snow and he is also special because he is one of the models from my book "ANIMAL FELT". He is made with the technique that I developed for animals, where I study this special animal carefully and look at the proportions and then make the different parts of the body and needle them together in the position I want. This little arctic fox is looking a little shy to one side to show that he is not too confident with his situation. I love how the wool looks so pure, soft and transparent out there in the snow. He is 30 cm long and 13 cm high.

The price is $ 185 (USD) and this includes shipping. Only the one dolls is available so if you click on the order-link and the dolls has already been sold you will get an error message.
