

What I work with this winter

Contributed by Birgitte Krag Hansen
Friday, 15 January 2010

It was not the best start on the winter season to find my studio water damaged caused by all the wonderful snow we have had.

The next thing on my calendar was to send my felt work to the publisher "FIBER FEBER" for photographing.

25 Danish feltmakers were juried to participate in this new felt book. My contribution is two big soft granit women, an orangutan baby and a marten made of raw fleece.

Right now I am on the idea stadium for the 3 exhibitions I take part in this next half year.

I just sent for a big nature colored piece of needle felt from Elina Sari in Finland. It is going to be a "body" for a big sculpture.